THE CAULDRON 1925

PUBLISHED ANNUALLY
BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF THE
SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING
NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY

Foreword

IN accordance with the honored customs and traditions of Northeastern University, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-five respectfully presents this volume of the CAULDRON to the students, faculty, and friends of the school. If it maintains the high standard of its predecessors, the purpose will have been fully accomplished. May it ever serve as a lasting memento to the members of the class, and keep alive fond recollections of a happy and eventful college career.

To

Harold Wesley Melvin

In sincere appreciation of whose generous help
and encouragement,

We, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-five, dedicate this book.

MAIN BUILDING

FRANK PALMER SPEARE, M.H., LL.B.

Frank Palmer Speare, President of Northeastern University, was educated in the Boston Public Schools, Chauncy Hall School, Bridgewater State Normal School and Harvard University. Upon graduation, he entered High School principalship. Later, in 1895, he was appointed Director of Education for the Boston Young Men's Christian Association, which position he held until the department was incorporated as Northeastern College in 1916, when he was elected president. He established the Co-Operative Engineering School in 1909.

He is a member of numerous important educational and fraternal organizations.

"Julie" has well-defined abilities, both in the class regime and as an actor. He once explained a question to a professor which took so long that but few others had a chance to speak. We have never forgotten this favor.

"Bram" lives in Malden, and he claims to have reached perfection in methods of cramming before exams. He can accumulate more knowledge between Everett and Northampton Street than most men can gather in an evening.

"Alex", aside from being tall and handsome, is without a doubt the most courteous and quietly sympathetic man in our class. One never fails to glow with the warm spirit of comradeship when in his presence. Indeed, with a friend like "Alex" the world is a pretty good place to live in, after all!

"Ray" is our "pro" instructor who certainly has learned a lot about electrical lore. We do not argue much when he enters the discussion, — all reasons for such foolishness soon leaving our empty beans.

Not content with Electrical Engineering as a study in itself, Raymond tackled "Radio" and there also met pronounced success. Such men have made Northeastern famous.

"Bunny" is our baseball marvel. He has done more than a little for Northeastern on the diamond, for which work we have always endeavored to give him due credit. As captain of the 1924 squad, he led his men through an exceptionally hard schedule of fourteen games, recording a very successful season. For all that, "Bunny" is a very modest gentleman, which is reason enough for his popularity.

We should not be surprised to hear that they were building paper houses in Walpole after hearing the wonders of the paper products of Bird & Son.

As chairman of the Engineering Conference, Chemical section, Mr. Bartlett conducted himself in a very graceful and elegant manner. Many a speaker has received a good send-off through his introduction.

Ever hear of Little John, Robin Hood's chief lieutenant? Well, 1925 boasts a little John who has done a big share in boosting class activities, although he doesn't roam around with broadsword and crossbow. Bud has been four years a scribe on the Northeastern Tech and plies a competent quill. His talents extend into athletics too, and as a member of the soccer football squad Johnny made a name for himself as the diminutive cyclone.

"Newt" has been one of our faithful campus residents. We would not ask for a more congenial neighbor. He hails from the "Green Mountain" State, and well we know that.

When a co-op job was lacking, "Newt" dropped from sight. The call from home became irresistible.

"Ed" is rather quiet in manner and is not what one might call a fluent conversationalist, but those who know him well realize that his words gain weight because of their being few in number. "Ed's" hobby is playing a fiddle. He can make it sing, whistle or speak the international language of music.

For all his golden red hair, Boden seems to be able to keep his temper well controlled even when the Lab. gang is going its strongest. For a long time we wondered at his suspicious actions—greatly resembling those of a first class detective. Then it dawned on us that he was still looking for an A. C. storage battery.
 Witness that Art has no trouble getting on the honor roll. It has become quite a common occurrence.

"Mose" is a rapid calculating machine all by his lonesome. He's always at least a dozen steps ahead of the class. 'Tis said that one day when he had disturbed the class in "Marketing" by snoring, he was rather rudely awakened. With his ever-ready witty answer, said that he had dreamed he was shopping. But Prof. Rollins pointed to the door and told "Mose" to continue—adding that all wise-cracks were not witty.

John is another one of those smart cusses. He thinks figures so fast that he can't put them down fast enough, which accounts for his ready answers.
 It is a well-known fact that John has a motorcycle. One day he came to class with memoirs of an accident written all over his face and sponsored by his limping gait. We never knew just what happened, but were able to use our imagination.

His mellow voice and thoughtful mind would have graced a pulpit anywhere, but "Deac" preferred to apply his talents to our Glee Club and to writing editorials for the Northeastern Tech. Besides his many student activities, he found time to actively interest himself in religious affairs and served as vice-president of the Mt. Vernon Young People's Society. "Deac" also represented Northeastern at the Student Conference at Silver Bay.

Electricals Picnic at Beautiful Lake Canobie

Positives and Negatives Engage in Battle Royal—Ball Game, Swim and Boat Ride Included in Fun

Plotted by Carl Edwards, Bill Broadbey, and Lester Cranh, eighteen high potential electricals sailed forth to the delights of Lake Canobie last Tuesday. On the way up to Salem, N. H. the boys stopped for lunch at Lawrence and also purchased a beautiful five sized egg plant which Bert Krohn with appropriate teaching remarks presented to the beloved Steve Flynn. The tears came to Steve's eyes as he accepted this token of tribute and affection. He was instructed to plant the egg plant and provide himself with a lot of little egg plants for future times.

Upon the arrival at the lake two ball teams were chosen, one captained by Bill Heather and another by Bert Krohn, Bill's team being the positives and Bert's the negatives. The two captains tested for polarity and it was discovered that the negatives should take the field first. Newton played a whale of a game during the first inning but lost his wits in error field and was of course promptly handicapped for the remainder of play.

Steve Flynn was caught cribbing at second base and caught tripping at the negatives but later conspired for the grounds that he was too far away from the correct answer. Freddie Herthel was the Elder Ruth of the game and had the negative outfielders blowing around in circles. They were thankful that he only came to bat once in every nine men. There was no umpire when it had to many arguments but no fights. The positives' ace-trick Ed Barker with being the only honest man on the negative team, there being no honest man on their own team. Flynn claimed that the losers had fear on in every inning. Carl Edwards gathered in all the fly balls around second base with great ease.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the play was the Flynn-Dolan battery, operating for the positives. Red Sox coats perched at the legs from the sidelines, but evidently couldn't make much enough offers for their services because neither Flynn nor his Jim signed articles to work for the Boston color magazine. Don Chuck Polky wanted to bring a lady friend along from Lawrence but the rest of the boys thought it would make Steve Flynn nervous, he is so lashed when women are around.

The game ended with the losers ahead.

by the score of 22 to 11. The hot spell due to the heat is blamed by the losers for their victory. Immediately after the game both teams adjourned to the swimming pool and partook of water sports for an hour. Girls from the Butler school taught the boys how to swim and Novot showed the girls how to high dive and hit the bottom. Mack Bennett took pictures of Novot and the bathing beauties; these will be shown at a local theater in the near future and will make you laugh as you never have laughed before.

Next the crowd chartered the good ship Alamoita and took a spin around the lake. Bill White acted as radio operator and was in touch with German, French and Portuguese stations throughout the voyage. Cranh was the only member of the party who suffered from seasickness but several would have been sick if they had dared to be. After the morning sea trip the crowd adjourned to adjacent boating wharfs at skid-bath. George Roberts was runner up Edwards' lowest of candidates scoring a grand total of 100.

When supper had been demolished the ball teams assembled once more and a return engagement between the positives and negatives was staged. Everybody hated Red heeled in order to make less work for the fielders who were in weakened condition. The game continued until it had to be called by mutual agreement on account of darkness. Following are the line-ups:

Professor Alford Presented With Slide Rule by Seniors—Hardy Brownies Take a Swim

On Tuesday, June 9, the Civil Division B section of the class of 1925 journey to Nahant, and there enjoyed one of the most delightful days of their college career. Although the early morning weather outlook was not at all favorable, some twenty boys (including Professor H. B. Alford and Mr. Board) met in front of the "eye" at 8:30 A.M. Members of the section supplied auto-rides, thus eliminating a tiresome train and trolley ride.

Arriving at Nahant, chairman of the outing, E. L. Davis, and E. K. Christenson departed in an ultimately successful search for grub, while the rest of the party adjourned to the ball field. Captain Koehn and his rival, Captain Novot, promptly entered a "blowing sales" contest. Captain Novot's winning the first eleven by four fingers and a thumb. The game was brilliant, with exceptional play, among which the following deserve special mention:

Captain Koehn's exceptional pitching. Alford's acrobacy in catching 125 hits. J. V. Johnson's trackwork in the garden.

Prof. Alford's snappy single. Mr. Board's work at first base. F. R. Kennedy's base running. Archie Caswell's magical transfer from catcher to pitcher. Art King's hitting average. Bartlett's work in the garden. Keville's two baggers.

Prof. Stern's pitching. New Tacker's ability at third base and as catcher. Novot's mound.

The ball game came to an end about 12:30 with a score of 25 to 7 in Captain Novot's favor. Koehn claimed that if he knew the score was being recorded, his team would have come out better.

Returning to the beach, the boys were greeted with results of Davis' and Christenson's investigations.

Christenson's investigations had deep, cold, warm, and doughnuts. Using coils of cooking the "the soon enjoying the fifteen years.

After dinner, and a caperation, during which stumps were told, the in the rough game of "Rock". This game is when cries of assistance reach. Last Tuesday was a great day for the Mechanicals. To the number of nearly thirty the senior members of course. It gathered in the rear of the "Y" and piled into waiting autos, promptly at the stroke of ten (i.e. after Oliver had a grinding of gears and a cloud of dust they were off. Paul leading. Professor Zeller pulled the prize stunt when he slipped off at a tangent to the regular course and was given up for lost, only to be found waiting with a calm and serene "Where you been, boys" at the end.

Using produced more life, the faculty covering on run, and the leftovers two. Thus the game proceeded, on the whole being quite close and well contested. Nearly everyone took a whack at pitching, and everybody was invited to try the catching end, but the response was hardly brisk. At the end of the fourth inning Haskins quit as umpire, and Herb Hinckley was drafted into the service.

The destination was a camp situated on the shore of Long Pond, just North of Lowell. Paul H. Sawyer, '25, also of the mechanical course, who owns the camp, very kindly suggested it as a suitable place for an outing, and certainly no one was disappointed.

By this time it was five o'clock, and while some left for home, others, the larger number, remained behind, armed with a ham, canned soup, crackers and there, in fact, all the element of a banquet, and prepared to test their abilities as amateur cooks.

A Farewell Party was tendered to the graduating S. O. P. men on the Student Activities Room on Monday evening of this week. The present jurors were in charge of the affair which was a marked success. The evening was full of surprises, including the novel souvenirs of silk handkerchiefs embroidered with the letters of the fraternity in appropriate colors. A lunch and refreshments were served by the Kappa while the program was carried out by B. J. Preterbohl, chairman of the committee.

The social schedule of the Phi Gamma Pi Fraternity came to an end last Friday night, June 5th, 1925, when a snoker was held at the fraternity house, 52 Cambridge St. The purpose of the snoker was two-fold, it being held for the new men who had been taken in the fraternity during the last week. Messrs. W. Carrill, W. Chapin and E. Walker, and also in honor of the fraternity members of this years graduating class.

B.G.E.

The meeting of June 8, brought to a close another successful school year of this Fraternity. The many activities which were undertaken during the year have been run on a manner scale than former years and in a manner which makes an organization still growing. The annual formal dance which was held at the Summer set is a good example of the increasing scope of the Fraternity life.

COLLEGE YEAR

RIDE OUT

The College Year

As we read back in our diary of college events, it invariably recalls to our minds old faces, old times, and certain associated incidents long forgotten. We can never bring them back again, — that is true, but it is possible, with the help of an efficient history key, to again live in our minds each memorable episode of our college career.

Though space limits the length of the "College Year", it is published with a sincere wish that it may serve as the Master Key to your Storehouse of Pleasant Memories.

POPS

On the evening of Thursday, May 15, 1924, the annual Northeastern Night at "Pops" concert was properly celebrated. The entire floor of Symphony Hall was engaged, and the student body was unanimous in proclaiming the affair a great success.

The committee arranged to have excerpts from "Listening In" played by the orchestra, and student singing and cheering was also included. Truly an evening of happy relaxation and informal enjoyment, the event has laid another foundation block for future student activities.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

The third annual speaking contest was observed on May 23, 1924, when six versatile speakers engaged in a battle royal for first honors. The contest was held in Jordan Hall. The speeches were of excellent quality and subject matter, and it was an enthusiastic student body that applauded the student competitors. The final speakers were W. C. White, '25, E. A. Clark, '26, H. J. Blake, '24, L. F. Merrill, '25, E. T. Carlson, '25, and H. C. Jones, '25, with E. G. Crockett, '25, selected as an alternate.

The contest was very close, but the judges finally submitted the following decisions: First prize, Louis F. Merrill; second prize, William C. White; third prize, Henry Jones.

The prizes of $50, $25, and $10 were presented by Dean Ell. Mr. Locke, vice-president of the General Radio Company of Cambridge, Dean Garner of the Business Administration School, and Mr. Lees of the Huntington School, acted as judges.

NORTHEASTERN TECH

At the annual May conference of the Eastern Intercollegiate Newspaper Association held at Yale University under the auspices of the Yale Daily News, the Northeastern Tech, undergraduate publication of the Co-operative School of Engineering, was admitted to membership in the Association. The McGill Daily News, official undergraduate publication of McGill University, Montreal, Canada, was also elected to membership, making a total of nineteen college newspapers represented in this collegiate news association.

TRACK TEAM BANQUET

The Northeastern Track team ended a brilliant season Tuesday evening, May 26, 1924, with a banquet at Hotel Buckminster. About thirty track men and six faculty advisers were present. The latter included Dean Ell, Professor Spear, Coaches Zeller and Parsons, and Professors Pugsley and Nightingale. Track letters and numerals were awarded by Dean Ell, as chairman of the General Athletic Committee. Curtis Brooks, who left a trail of broken records during his last two years at college, was the gallant hero of the evening, receiving warm praise from every speaker.

At the meeting of the letter men, E. F. Davidson was chosen to captain the 1925 squad. H. C. Martinelli was reappointed manager and H. B. Hilton was appointed first assistant manager.

MUSICAL CLUBS BANQUET

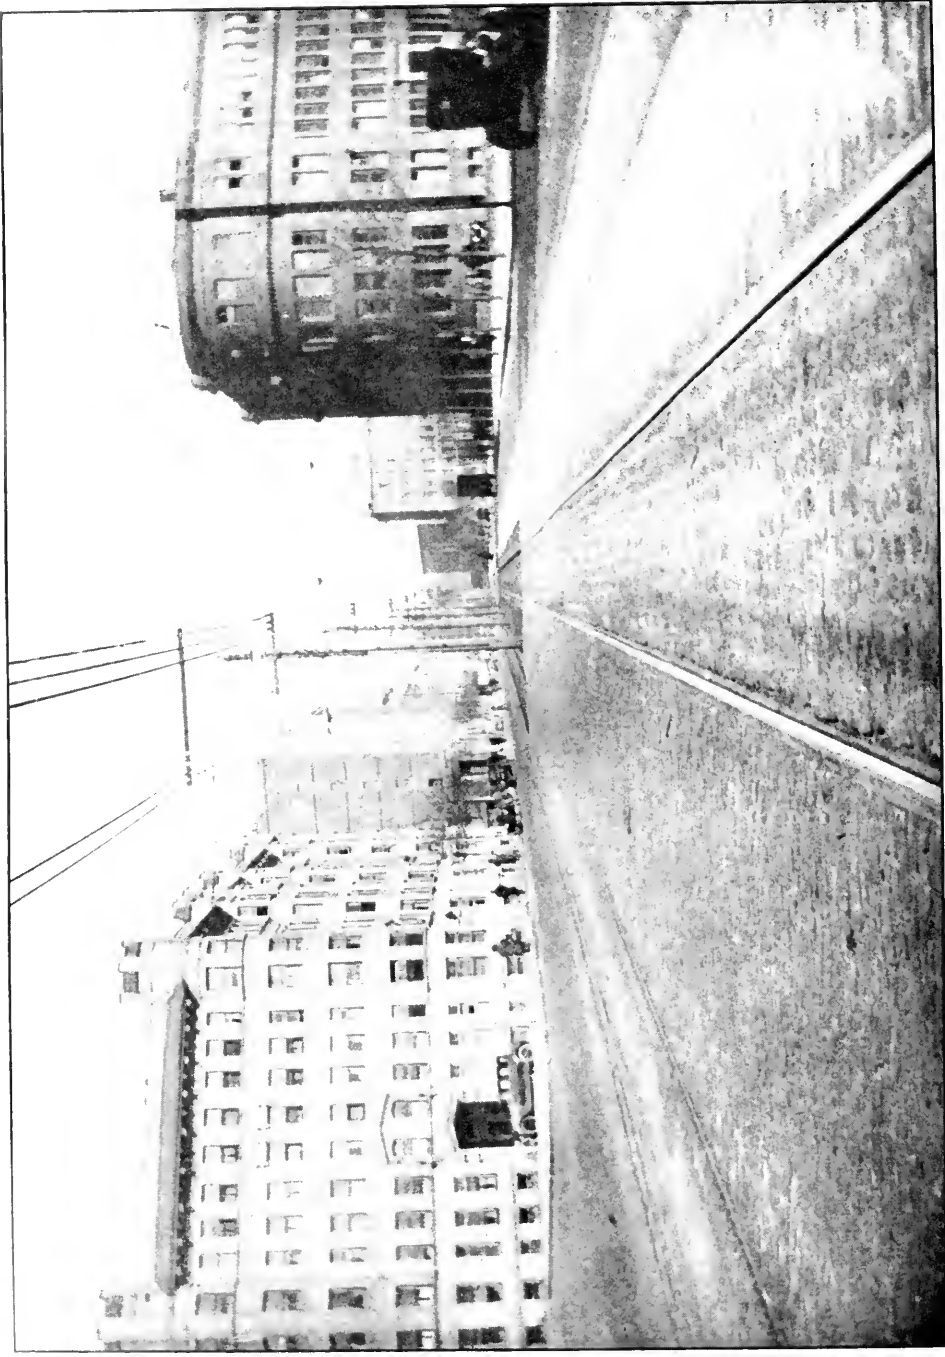

On the evening of June 3, 1924, seventy-eight members of the Dramatic and Musical Clubs held their first annual banquet at Hotel Buckminster. Several members of the faculty spoke during the occasion, and the election of leaders and managers for the Glee Club and Banjo Club was held. The results of the elections held were as follows:

GLEE CLUB
P. SANDERSON	Leader
T. A. CORLISS	Manager
BANJO CLUB
A. A. CARSWELL	Leader
C. S. WILLIAMS	Manager

BASEBALL BANQUET

At the annual baseball banquet, held at Hotel Buckminster on June 6, 1924, Francis Watson, Class of 1925, was elected to lead the 1925 squad. Coach Bond, in the course of his address, gave some statistics regarding the 1924 team. Six men had batting averages over 300, which was one of the strong points of the team. Later in the evening, Captain Ayles was presented with a baseball, suitably engraved, on behalf of the team, following which Dean Ell presented letters and numerals to the players.

FIELD DAY

Northeastern Engineering observed the 14th annual field day celebration at Riverside on June 7, 1924. Fifteen hundred undergraduates, alumni, faculty, and guests were present. As a beautiful summer's day graced the occasion, canoeing was a big attraction. In the morning the tennis tournaments were held, and the student body witnessed many brilliant plays between members of the faculty and undergraduates.

Early in the afternoon the flag ceremony was held, and President William Parsons of the Senior class, with a few appropriate words, handed down the Senior colors to President Harold MacLeod of the Freshman class. Flynn of the Sagitta Society next announced the membership of that honorary body for the coming year, and displayed for the first time the emblem of the organization.

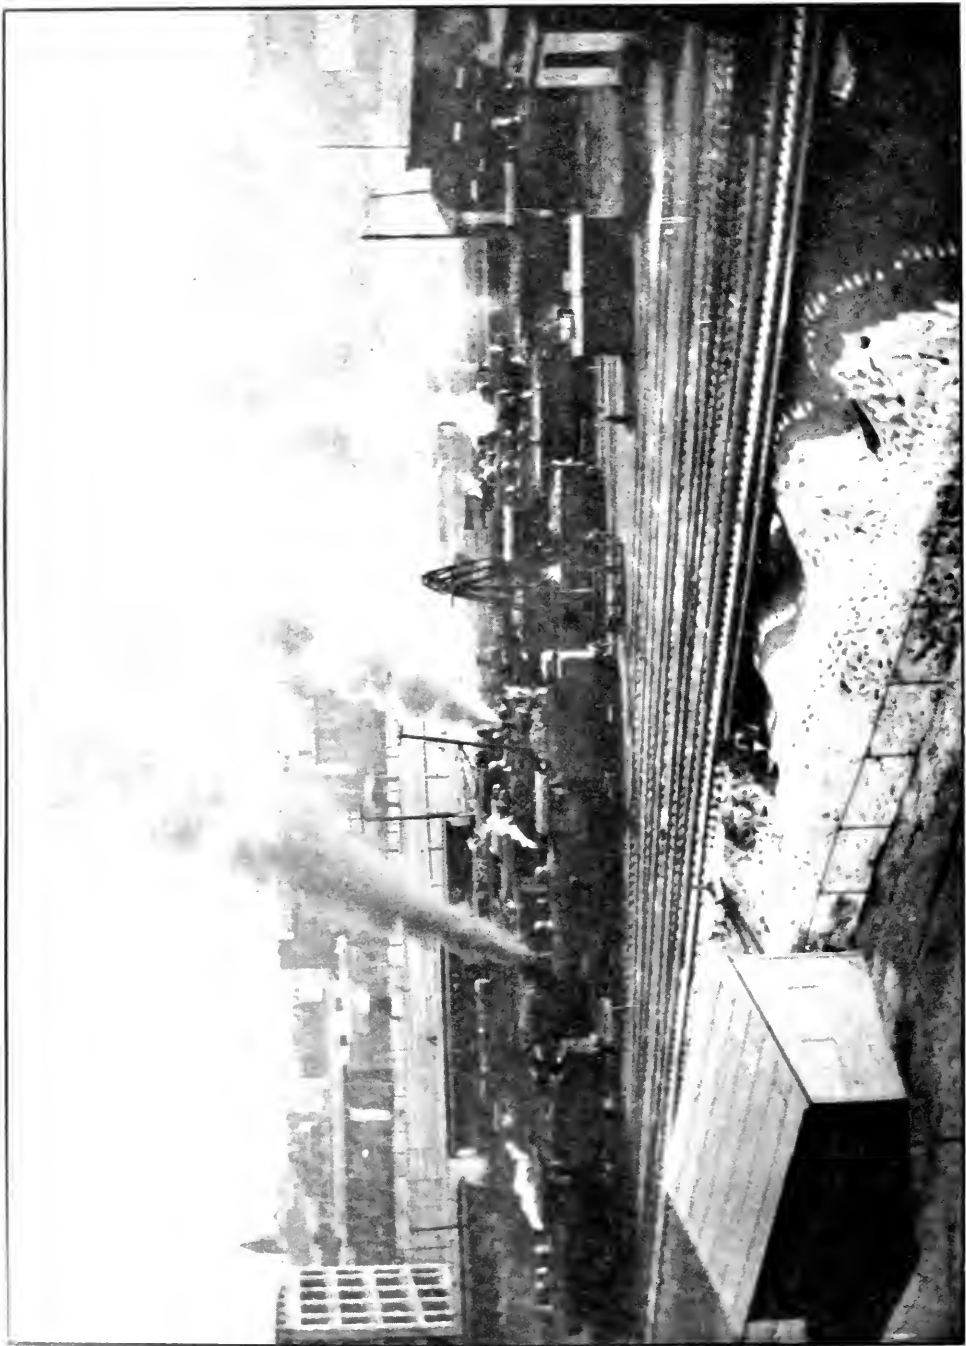

After a colorful confetti battle which took place on the green, the students and their friends assembled for the field day picture, following which they adjourned to the banks of the swimming pool to witness the water sports. The title of champions in the canoe-tilting contest finally passed from Meserve and Nelson, to Slocombe and Blatchford, after a long and terrific struggle replete with thrills. The tub race was won by Davidson, with Nelson runner up. Pew, Blatchford and Reed took first, second and third places, respectively, in the 50-yard dash.

The ball game between the Faculty and Seniors proved to be quite an exhibition, with many teams contributing original and impossible plays. The final score was 15 to 15, although the Seniors had the edge most of the way. The by-plays of the Pugsley-Towle and Joe-Joe batteries kept the stands in good spirits throughout the game.

With an evening of dancing and canoeing, the happy event came to a close without a hitch. Everyone agreed that it was the "best yet", and that the committee deserved much praise for the success of the affair.

ENTER — 1928

On Monday, September 8, 1924, a record number of students enrolled in the Engineering School, their total number amounting to 1103. It was the largest number of students in the history of the school, and they succeeded in keeping the host of instructors and the office force rushing from early in the morning until the final hour for registration in the afternoon.

FRESHMAN RECEPTION

With the aid of the Class of 1925, the yearlings started their social life at Northeastern in Bates Hall, on the evening of September 12, 1924. Music, refreshments, smokes and speeches were in order.

THE RUSH

After the closest and perhaps the most exciting Freshman-Sophomore Rush which has ever been held at Northeastern, the Freshman class was adjudged the winner by a score of 155 to 145, only following a lengthy deliberation by the rush committee, during which three ballots were cast. The feature of the day was the tug-of-war contest over Muddy River, and it was around these events that the discussion of the results centered.

The first tug-of-war was declared a tie; the second was won by the Sophs. The six-legged race was won by the Freshman team, after an interesting and exciting contest. The relay obstacle race see-sawed back to the Sophomores, they being credited with all three places. The pole rush was an exceptionally easy victory for the Freshmen, C. A. Ray of Beaumont obtaining the streamer in fifty seconds of the three minutes.

DR. HENRY H. CRANE

On September 19, 1924, Dr. Henry H. Crane delivered an impressive lecture to the Northeastern student body, in Jordan Hall. His subject, "If I Were Starting In", provided the students with a fine vision of moral idealism and true sportsmanship.

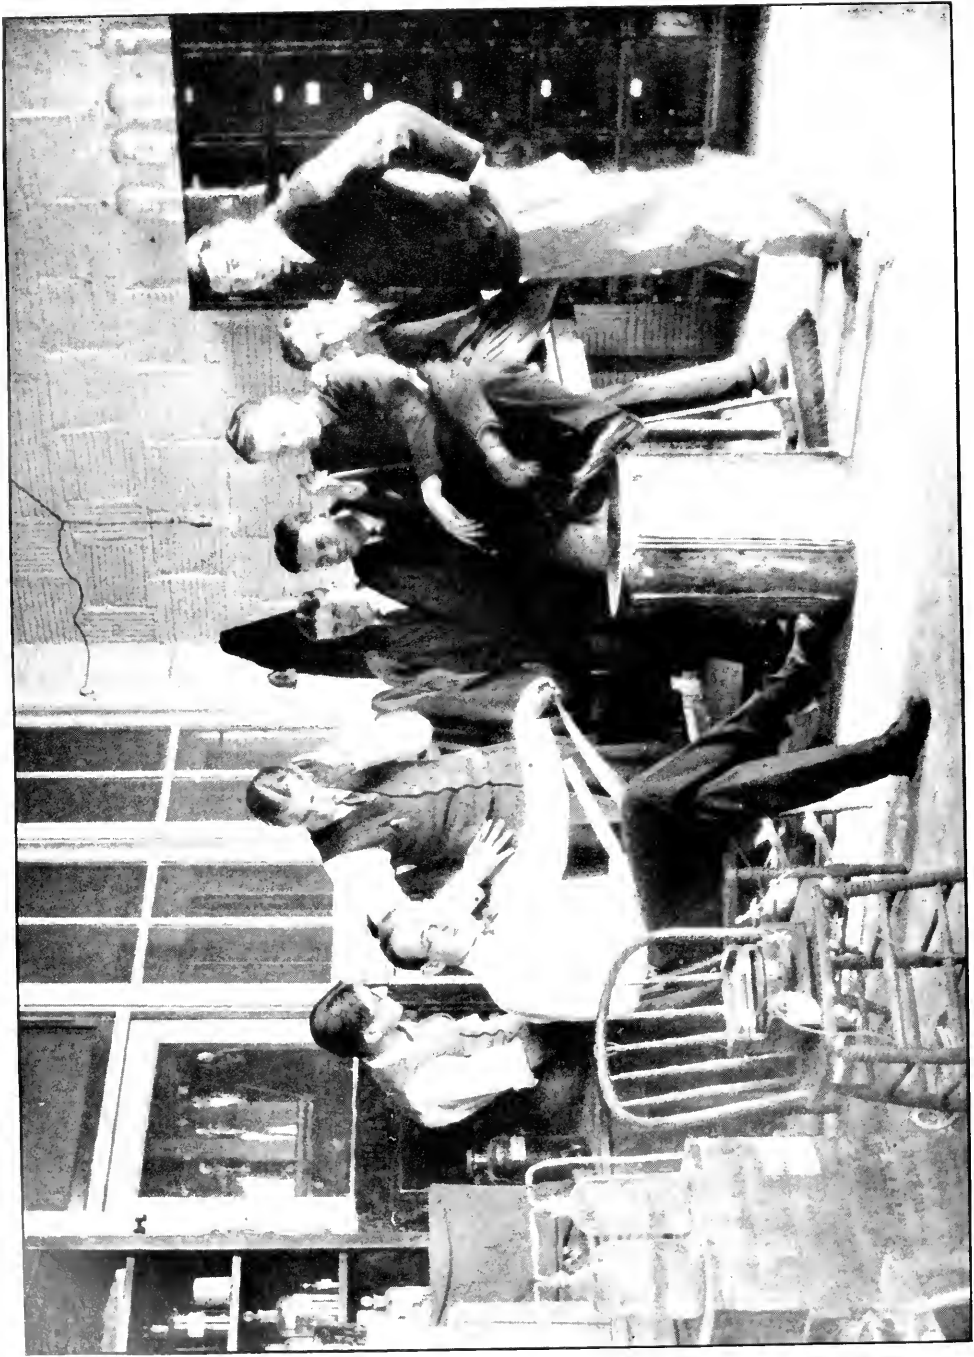

SENIOR DANCE

The first hop of the year was given by the Class of 1925 on Friday evening, October 3, at the "Chateau". Although the dance was originally scheduled to officially open "The Tent", Morey Pearl's new $100,000 Silk and Satin ballroom, the impossibility of completing the work on the hall made it necessary to choose the "Chateau". Here, beneath the soft lights and the folds of the draperies hung in the royal Red and Black of Northeastern, a record crowd of over four hundred persons danced to the smooth rhythm of Morey Pearl's Brunswick Recording Orchestra. Needless to say, the splendor and excellence of the dance drew much praise and favorable comment.

ALUMNI BANQUET

The Crawford House was the scene of the Alumni Banquet on the evening of October 28. About one hundred were present. All classes were represented, but with the Class of 1924 in the majority. A fine dinner of five courses was served, and Professors Pugsley, Spear, and Nightingale spoke on appropriate topics, following which Dean Ell gave a talk on the development of the school.

TECH STRAW BALLOT

By an overwhelming majority, President Calvin Coolidge swept the School of Engineering, Northeastern University, in the presidential straw vote conducted under the auspices of the Northeastern Tech. The Republican nominee polled 405 votes out of the 533 votes cast, — evidence aplenty that his principles and platform are popular at Northeastern. Senator LaFollette was runner-up in the balloting and secured 89 votes, while the Democratic candidate was a poor third, with only 37.

NORTHEASTERN TECH

As a result of an important meeting of the Tech Staff, Elmer E. Haskins, '25, was elected editor-in-chief of that publication to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Arthur F. Whitehead. In the election of Haskins, it is very apparent that the Tech has a capable and industrious administrator of its affairs. Various other changes and promotions were made in other branches as well, with the result that a general shake-up of the entire organization ensued.

TECH SMOKER

Tribute of over thirty-five members of the Northeastern Tech staff ran high, as they listened over their tea-cups to a lively and intensely interesting "shop" talk by Mr. Williard De Luc of the Globe, at the first staff smoker of the year, given in the Student Activities Room on the evening of Thursday, November 20. Mr. De Luc explained the problem of gathering and presenting authentic news to the public, in the light of the system and complexities contained in the organization of a city newspaper.

SOCCKER TEAM

In the last engagement of the year the Northeastern University Soccer team defeated the Boston Chinese Association team, Saturday, November 22, by a score of 1 to 0. The game was hard fought, and the only score was made in the ten-minute overtime period by Urquhart.

The Soccer team, under the supervision of Coach Copley, has worked hard and faithfully for the honor of the school. Though the official acceptance of Soccer as a minor sport is of but recent date, the games have all exhibited the merits of conscientious work and training. Quite needless to say, Northeastern is proud of the team.

SOPHOMORE HOP

Attended by over two hundred couples, the Sophomore Dance, held on December 3, at "The Tent", proved to be one of the most successful of similar social functions in recent years. The music was delightful; specialty acts of unusual merit were presented; favors were in abundance; and the whole tone of the evening reflected one of utter departure from the cares of the day, to the realms of whole-hearted enjoyment.

SENATE ALUMNI BANQUET

On the evening of December 5, the Northeastern Senate held a banquet for the alumni of that honorary society in Room 101 of the "Y". Each alumnus was given a chance to relate to the other members of the organization his experiences in the wide, wide world, after graduating.

JUNIOR BANQUET

"Studies come first, but you need activities," said Dean Carl S. Ell in speaking on "Activities and College Men" at the Junior "half-way through" banquet at the Hotel Buckminster. An excellent menu with steak as a main course was served, specialties were on the program, and after-dinner smokes were in abundance. Besides the Dean, Registrar John B. Pugsley, and the class advisor, Professor E. A. Gramstorff, were among the guests of honor and gave short talks. The evening demonstrated careful preparation on the part of the Social Committee, and was one of the most successful affairs which has been held by the class.

INTERCLASS MEET

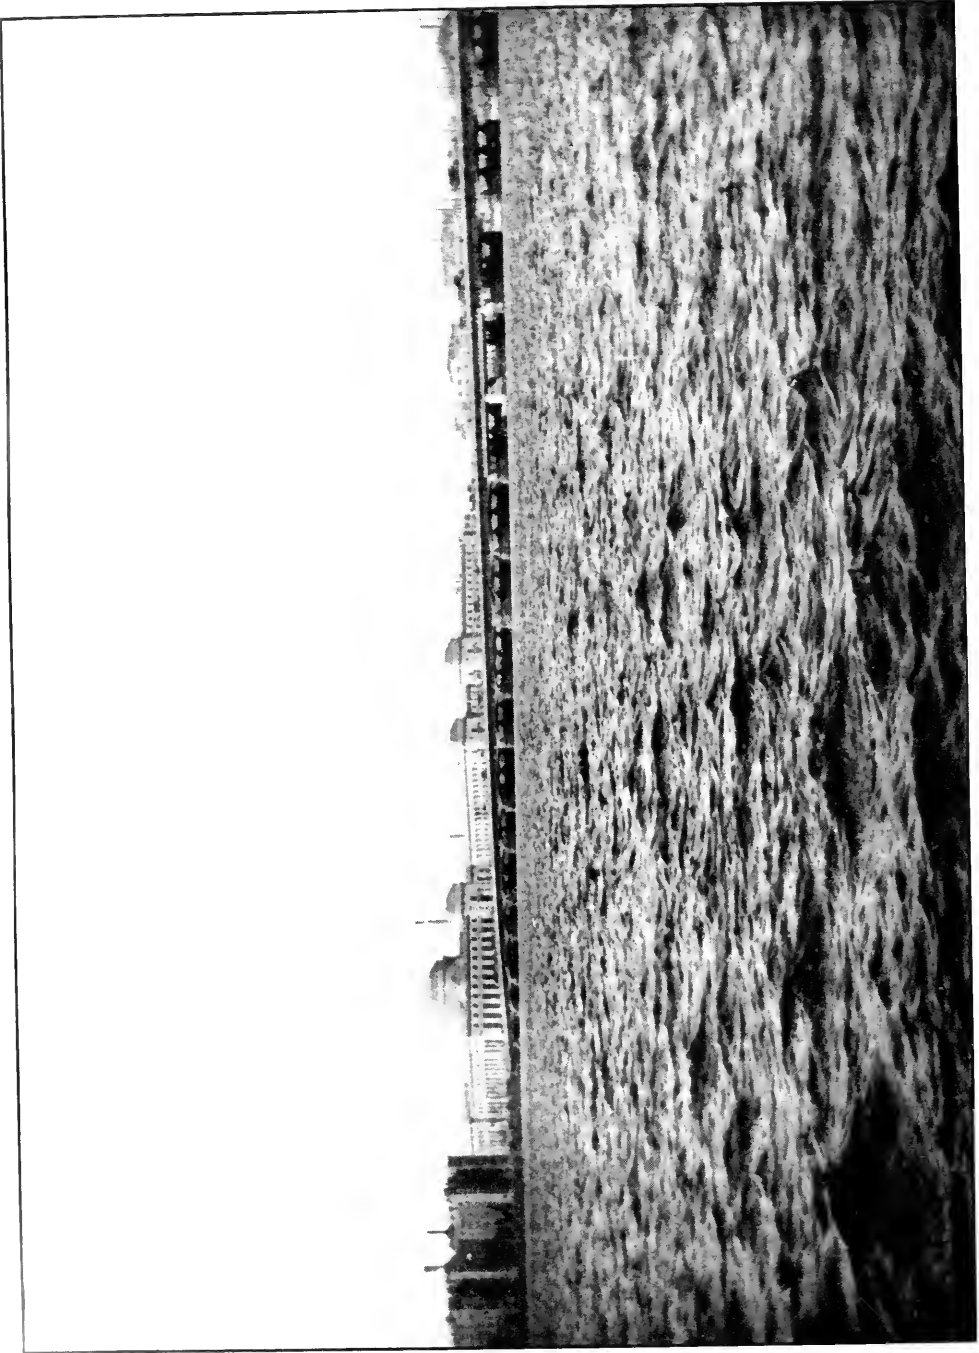

The Interclass Track meet of December resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Freshmen of 52 points over the other classes, whose total number of points were 18 1-3, 9 1-3, 3 1-3 for the Juniors, Sophomores and Seniors, respectively.

The meet was conducted with a snap that pleased everyone. The starter was Professor J. Spear, and timer, Mr. E. S. Parsons. The overwhelming victory of the Class of 1928 shows promise of some excellent track material for the four coming years.

INTER-FRATERNITY SMOKER

The Inter-fraternity Smoker was held on the evening of January 5, in the Activities Room of the Huntington Building. Professors Melvin, Schlagenhauf, Ferretti, Spear, Gramstorff, and Coach Bond were the guests of the evening. The dance orchestra and the excellent program of comedy offered by Billy Griffin, the professional entertainer, provided ample and abundant entertainment.

MID-WINTER CONCERT

Paul Revere Hall, on the evening of January 8, was the scene of the best entertainment and dance ever run by the combined Musical Clubs in the history of the school. From start to finish the entire affair was exceptionally well managed, and the brand of entertainment was of a calibre not easy to match. Much credit is due to Professor Winkfield, whose heavy contributions of time and effort counted much for the smoothness which marked the excellent program.

THE ECLIPSE

In order that the students of the University might observe the eclipse of the sun, Dean Ell announced that all classes would be shifted one hour ahead on the morning of January 24. Boston was unfortunate in that it was just outside the range of totality, but nevertheless, the effect was awe-inspiring to say the least.

ENTER — DIVISION B

On January 26, 1925, the University again assumed the tinge of Bolshevism with the reappearance of the multitude of Freshman caps. Over two hundred new faces were added to Northeastern's host, and kept the offices busy the entire morning with the task of enrolling. Electricals led in the enrollment, with Civils and Mechanicals the respective second and third.

DIVISION B RECEPTION

At 8.00 o'clock on the evening of January 30, the Seniors were hosts to the Division B Freshmen in the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria. Dean Carl S. Ell, as well as leaders of the various organizations, gave short speeches. Smokes and refreshments were on tap, and the Banjo Club gave a well-selected program.

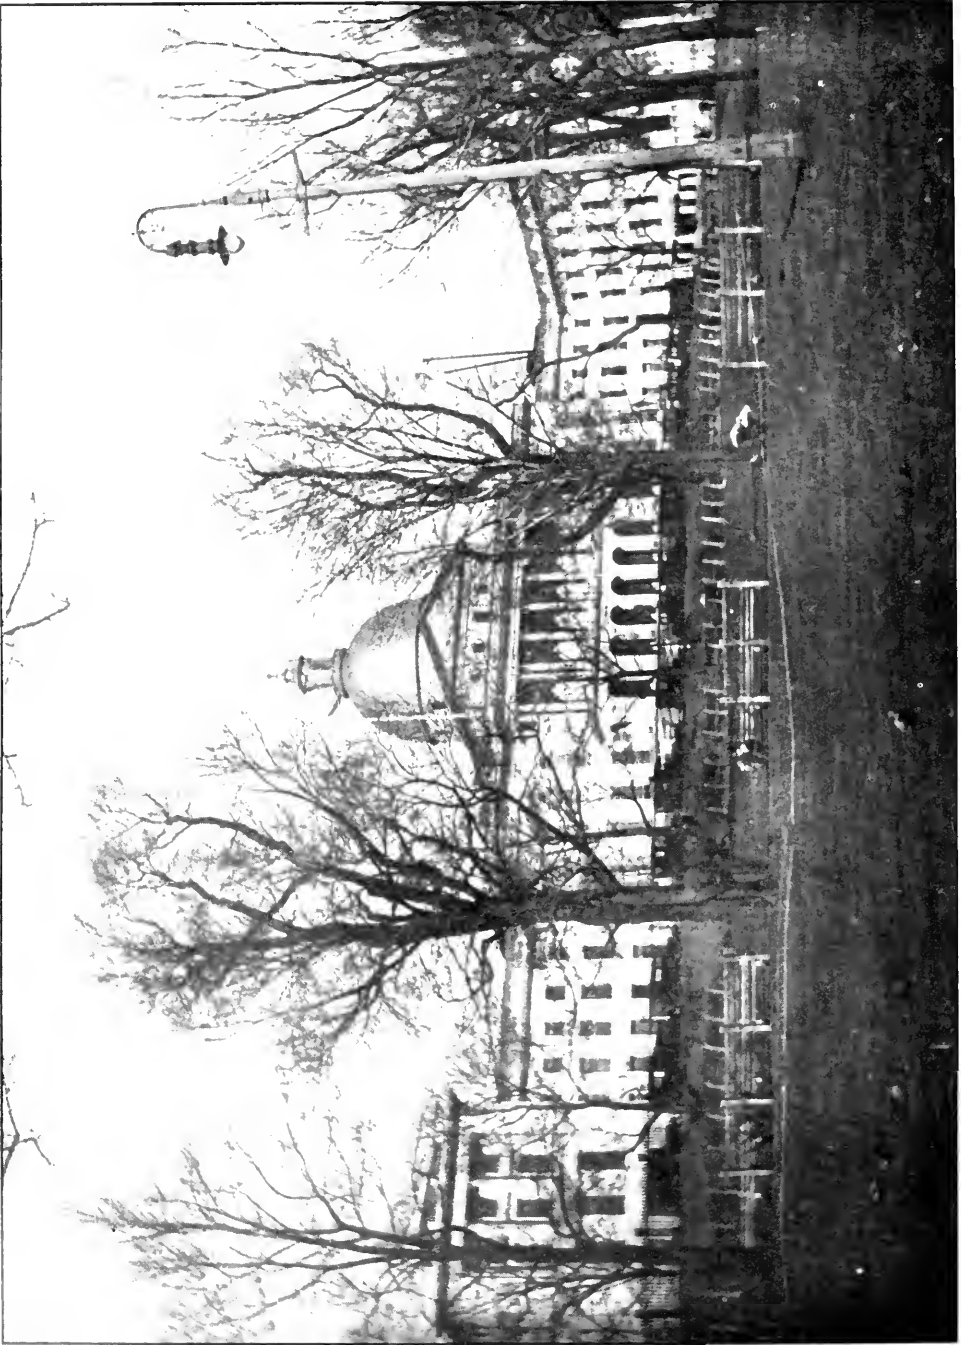

PROFESSOR JEAN CAPART, EGYPTOLOGIST

Vividly presenting the weird, dreamy romance of ancient Egypt as revealed in the grim, musty recesses of the newly excavated tomb of the great King Tutankhamen, Professor Jean Capart, of the University of Liege, Belgium, perhaps the most renowned Egyptologist of the age, held enthralled the entire student body of Northeastern Engineering School with amazing excerpts from the many recent discoveries and records of this ancient ultra-modern civilization.

SENIOR THEATRE PARTY

They forgot their exams, thesis, work and what not while they accompanied "her" to the play, "The Beggar on Horseback," at the Wilbur theatre. "They", of course, are the Seniors, and the affair was another of those regular '25 booms with both divisions as enthusiastic as a bunch of kids.

BASKETBALL TEAM

In the final game of a successful season, the Northeastern Basketball squad was defeated by the Middlebury College hoopsters in a hard and fast game. Although the teams were apparently well matched, early in the contest, Middlebury soon gained the lead and was never threatened. Northeastern, although fighting hard throughout, seemed to present a different team than the spirited, flashing and accurate group of athletes which defeated Tech and gave such a good account of themselves on the New York trip. Nevertheless, Coach Bond is pleased with the season's showing, and although the June graduation will eliminate several versatile players from next year's lineup, there still remains promise of another successful year.

WRESTLING TEAM

After a very successful season, in which more than half of the meets went to Northeastern, the Wrestling team lost the last match in a return meet with Tufts, the latter avenging its former defeat by a score of 18 to 11. The team was greatly handicapped by the loss of Captain Shapiro, who was suffering from injuries received in a previous match. Nevertheless, Coach Copley has every reason to feel proud of his boys, as each contest exhibited faithful training and aggressiveness on the part of each Northeastern man.

THE RUSH

By winning the annual March Rush, the Frosh upset all previous dope in regard to the outcome. Both the classes proved that they were full of the real fighting spirit, by fighting to the last minute, neither class willing to admit defeat.

- Summary: Six-legged race, won by the Freshmen.
First tug-of-war, won by the Sophomores.
Second tug-of-war, won by the Freshmen.
Final tug-of-war, won by the Freshmen.
Cheering contest, won by the Sophomores.
Relay, won by the Freshmen.
Push-ball contest, won by the Freshmen.

"ARE YOU MY WIFE?"

"Are You My Wife?", the second annual original musical comedy to be produced by the students of the School of Engineering, was given in the Fine Arts Theatre on the evenings of April 3 and April 4 before capacity houses. As in the preceding year, the comedy was presented under the auspices of the Combined Dramatic and Musical Clubs of the College. A thoroughly efficient business staff, an unusually competent stage staff, a well chosen cast, and a balanced, effective orchestra, combined to produce a performance reflecting great credit on the School. The book, the lyrics, and the music proved a worthy vehicle for the talent of the performers.

The play was "filled to the brim with lilting songs and mirth-provoking situations". The singing and acting of G. F. Norton, '28, C. W. Pride, '27, and A. F. Vinal, '27, will long be remembered. The beauty of the Oriental Harem scene, the acting of G. W. Sawin, '26, in a feminine role, the lively jazz of the Bacchanalians, under A. A. Carswell, '25, all stood out. Perhaps the greatest success of the evening was that of L. B. Prior, '27, who gave an unusually talented performance as Izzy One-stone, the demon detective. It was the spirit of co-operation, however, between all those connected with the performance that is responsible for its success. The orchestra, under L. C. Rising, '27, the cast, the management, headed by H. A. Buck, '25, K. S. Smiley, '25, and J. J. McCarthy, '27, were all important factors, nor should the work of J. R. Penniman, '24, on the book, lyrics, and music be forgotten. The play of 1925 will surely live long in the memories of those who saw it.

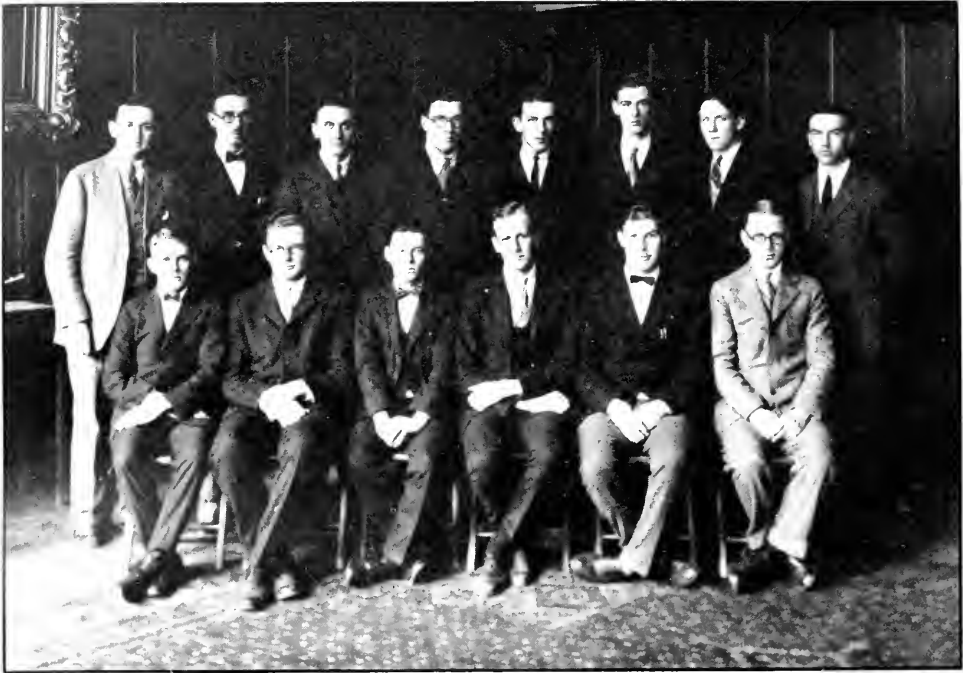

COMING EVENTS

"Pops" night at Symphony Hall will be observed on May 14.
Field Day, June 6.

The Senate

Election to the Northeastern Senate, the honorary society of the School of Engineering, represents the highest honor that can be given a Northeastern man. The well-known Senate Scroll, the official emblem of the society, is awarded only to one, who, by his excellence in scholarship, integrity of character, diligence in extra curricula activities and faithful endeavor in the interests of his fellow students, has demonstrated his ability and shown love for his Almer Mater.

The Senate is not a social organization, but during the past year it has run a most successful Senate Alumni re-union supper which promises to become a yearly event; two Senate elections with proper initiations following; also its Grand Finale, the annual Senate Banquet, at which time comes the distribution of the most appreciated of presents, the Senate Shingles.

Handbook

Under the efficient supervision of a popular Senior, Newton E. Tucker, and two of his team-mates, Northeastern was presented with the best Handbook of all time. The cover design of the book was unique and attractive, and caused much favorable comment among the student body. In substance the book was necessarily similar to its predecessors, but every possible care was taken in revising the organization writeups and data on the school year.

THE B. A. A. MEET

JANUARY 31, 1925.

On the evening of January 31, 1925, Northeastern's crack relay team entered the B. A. A. games at the Arena. The distance was set at one mile, with Worcester Polytechnic Institute as the rival for first honors. A fighting finish by R. S. Murphy of the home team just failed by a stride to outbid Guidi of Worcester.

At the crack of the gun, Hunt was away like a flash with Thompson of Worcester close behind. Slocombe failed to make use of Hunt's gift of five yards, for Meigs closed up the gap and gave Worcester the pole. Breive made a gallant effort to regain first place, but failed by inches at the last turn. R. S. Murphy took up the chase. His best attempt served only to extend Guidi of Worcester who came to the tape a stride ahead of the Northeastern favorite.

P. F. Meigs, D. L. Forbes, J. L. Guidi).

Northeastern (C. W. Hunt, R. E.

Slocombe, A. M. Breive, R. S. Murphy).

The Time: 3 min. 42 2-5 sec.

THE K. C. GAMES

FEBRUARY 7, 1925.

A lead of one yard gained by Hunt at the start of the relay race against Tufts, February 7th, at the K. of C. games, gave the Northeastern quartet an impetus which enabled them to turn in an easy victory over their rivals from Medford Hillside. Following Hunt, Slocombe and Breive each added to the margin, and Murphy opened it up still more until he broke the tape 40 yards ahead of the Tufts anchor man. The time was not unusually fast but there is no doubt it would have been much better if the winners had been forced to extend themselves to greater efforts.

The Team:

Tufts (M. Haynes, L. J. Costa, E. V. Watson, R. F. Littlefield).

Northeastern (C. W. Hunt, R. E. Slocombe, A. M. Breive, R. S. Murphy).

The Time: 3 min. 17 sec. for a total distance of 1,560 yards.

THAT W. P. I. MEET

FEBRUARY 14, 1925.

The varsity Track team completely outclassed Worcester Polytechnic Institute when they won the annual dual meet 56-21. After Worcester's win in the B. A. A. games, the visitors were confident of victory but only managed to take one first place and tie for first in the high jump. They were shut out in two events.

The relay was one of the most exciting events of the meet when the team composed of Hunt, Slocombe, Adams and Breive raced to a new record and won by over ten yards.

AMERICAN LEGION GAMES

FEBRUARY 23, 1925.

The Northeastern relay team was defeated by Boston University in a fast, close race at the American Legion meet.

The team was handicapped by the absence of Murphy, who was unable to run. Adams ran a good race in Murphy's position, but he had not been training for the quarter-mile distance long enough to run a long relay with ease. Northeastern started with a lead which was taken over by B. U. in the first relay and held by them until Breive took the baton at anchor; Breive made a gallant fight and forged ahead several times during his two laps, but he was unable to take the measure of his speedy opponent who won by a narrow margin. It was a very fast race, the time being better than that of the Bowdoin vs. Williams event.

The Teams:

Boston University (J. F. Onthank, T. M. Hearne, W. G. Henry, G. W. Mastaglio).

Northeastern (C. W. Hunt, R. F. Slocombe, R. T. Adams, A. M. Breive).

The Time: 2 min. 55 2-5 sec.

NORTHEASTERN vs. BOSTON UNIVERSITY

FEBRUARY 26, 1925.

There have been close meets in the past, but it is very doubtful if even the oldest grad of Northeastern can equal this meet, for not only was the score close, but the performances were of unusually high quality. There was the thrill of De Varney's finish in the 1000-yard run. There was the tenseness that preceded the final heave of the mighty Zak which saved a meet that seemed already lost. Then there was the perfect relay running which won for Northeastern. The high jump record was broken by McKnight and Tatton jointly when they tied for second place and yet raised the previous mark by over an inch.

Wild excitement followed the meet and the school was enthusiastic over the good work of the team.

NORTHEASTERN vs. BATES

MARCH 12, 1925.

Coming all the way from Lewiston, Maine, the trackmen representing Bates handed our track squad a 54 to 21 defeat on the Y. M. C. A. track in the final meet of the season. The Maine state college sent a well balanced team, which won a hard earned victory, running on a strange track. Although Northeastern was handicapped by the loss of Foss, De Varney and Murphy, the boys from Northeastern put up a good fight and, although they were defeated, they were not whipped.

1925 Baseball Season

Manager Burke

The first call was issued for candidates, by Coach Bond, early in March; this call was for battery men only. Practice was held in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium for about two weeks and the men were then taken outdoors. Late in March the first call was issued for the remaining candidates and about fifty men reported to the Coach; this with the battery men, brought the squad up to about seventy-five men. Practice until the 6th of April, was held at the Walpole Street grounds, three days a week. Starting April 6th, the squad was taken out every day to the new field in Brookline. The first week of practice on the new field saw the first cut made, and the squad was reduced to thirty-five men.

The big problem facing the Coach this year is the pitching department, where he has no veterans and must build an entire new staff. There is some very fine looking material among the new pitchers and it is certain that this department will be well taken care of before the season is very old. Prowse, MacMullen and Pender are likely looking right-handers, while Gendron, a portsider, is shaping up well.

The various fielding berths are all being covered by the veterans of last year's squad, no men having been lost through graduation. The new men are pushing the regulars mighty hard for their jobs and it is quite certain that some of the regulars will be on the bench. The B. A. school has given some good men in Pender, Sullivan, MacMullen and Critchett. The Engineering school also has some likely looking candidates in Gray, Gendron, Hughes, Mader, Riccio, Conway and Scussel.

The team, on paper, looks as if it was to have the most successful season of its history and should turn in a mighty creditable record for itself. The schedule this year is somewhat changed from that of previous years: the New York trip has been abandoned, and in its place a Maine trip has been scheduled. There has also been arranged a three-game series with Boston University, for the championship of the Back Bay Colleges.

Basketball

Coach Bond

The Northeastern Basketball team plunged into a hard schedule on the evening of December 13, 1924, when it earned a well deserved victory over the Fitchburg Normal School, the score being 23 to 13. Even at this early day of the season, the men exhibited an excellent play of teamwork and the game was not without its exciting moments. Renker was the high-point man of the opening game, with Urquhart a close second.

Closely following the Fitchburg Normal contest came the journey to Rhode Island State, where, though fighting valiantly, the team went down to defeat. Kobera was without a doubt the star of the home team.

Though Bridgewater Normal was the next team on the schedule, due to an unfortunate fire at their school, the game was cancelled and the Ashburnham Club took their place. This, as the score shows, was a rather one-sided affair, but was not without flashy plays.

The New Bedford Textile game was noticeable in that it marked a continuous fighting struggle for supremacy, the work of both teams being excellent throughout.

A variety of spectacular plays kept the fans on their feet in a frenzy of suspense and excitement until the final crack of the timer's gun. Captain Carlow starred for the visitors, while Renker was the high-point man for Northeastern, having six baskets from the floor and the same number of fouls to his credit.

The Tufts game was fast and furious throughout the first period. At the end of the period the score was 15 to 11 in favor of Northeastern. Two or three minutes after the second period had started Renker and Barton were lost to the team. With two of the best men out of the game, the five was very badly crippled, and Tufts went into the lead.

Northeastern dropped the basketball game to M. I. T. by one point, when Wilcox, the Tech center, made a lucky toss from the center of the floor in the last thirty seconds of play. The Tech guards found it nearly impossible to keep track of Renker and Kobera, and as the score shows, the game was brilliant and exciting from start to finish.

On the evening of January 13, the Basketball five was defeated by Boston

THE CAULDRON

University in the last few minutes of play. This score was also close, and though Northeastern was on the small end, they retained their high standard of play.

The team came into its own on January 17, when it trounced Worcester Polytech, 25 to 21. Without a doubt this was the hardest fought game of the season, and Renker, the invincible Northeastern left forward, played a perfect game.

In the return game with Rhode Island State, which was fought on the home floor, the team was defeated by the score of 27 to 22. This contest was not so fast or brilliant as some of the previous clashes which have taken place in the gym, and marked the first home defeat of the season.

Northeastern never threatened the visitors from New York in the Brooklyn Poly game which took place on the home floor. The overwhelming defeat is well exhibited by the final score of 43 to 12.

Continuing in the run of hard luck, the games with Boston University and Massachusetts Aggies were equally without color as far as Northeastern was concerned, and the results were decisively discouraging, which is saying a mouthful.

The return meet with M. I. T. proved to be an eye opener and the Northeastern fans thoroughly enjoyed the pleasing sensation of another victory, which, because of the exasperating closeness of the preceding game, was particularly gratifying.

The remainder of Northeastern's Basketball schedule, though not without good points and spectacular plays, was nevertheless rather drab in comparison to the rest of the season. Trinity, Manhattan, and Brooklyn Polytech successfully vanquished Coach Bond's invading hoopsters. If it had been possible to carry some of the enthusiastic Northeastern fans along with the team, the spiritual support might have carried the men through. Middlebury capped the climax with a score of 32 to 16, and Northeastern, although fighting hard throughout, seemed to present a different team from the spirited, flashing, and accurate group of athletes which defeated Tech. Nevertheless, when we consider the long extended schedule and the excellent work of Coach Bond's team as a whole, we justly consider ourselves lucky in being able to offer such a clean, hard-playing group of players as the 1925 squad.

The following men deserve much credit for their work on the team, and as a token of appreciation and reward, will be awarded the Northeastern "N":

Captain K. L. Barton, '25, A. M. Zak, '25, M. Rubin, '25, J. J. Sylvester, '27, C. L. Renker, '27, W. P. Raffone, '27, W. F. Kobera, '28, Manager J. W. Cooke, '25.

Our Soccer team, built up in the past three years, has demonstrated its ability and proved itself worthy of the school's loyal support. An enthusiastic and determined team, guided by a diligent coach, has got to produce good results.

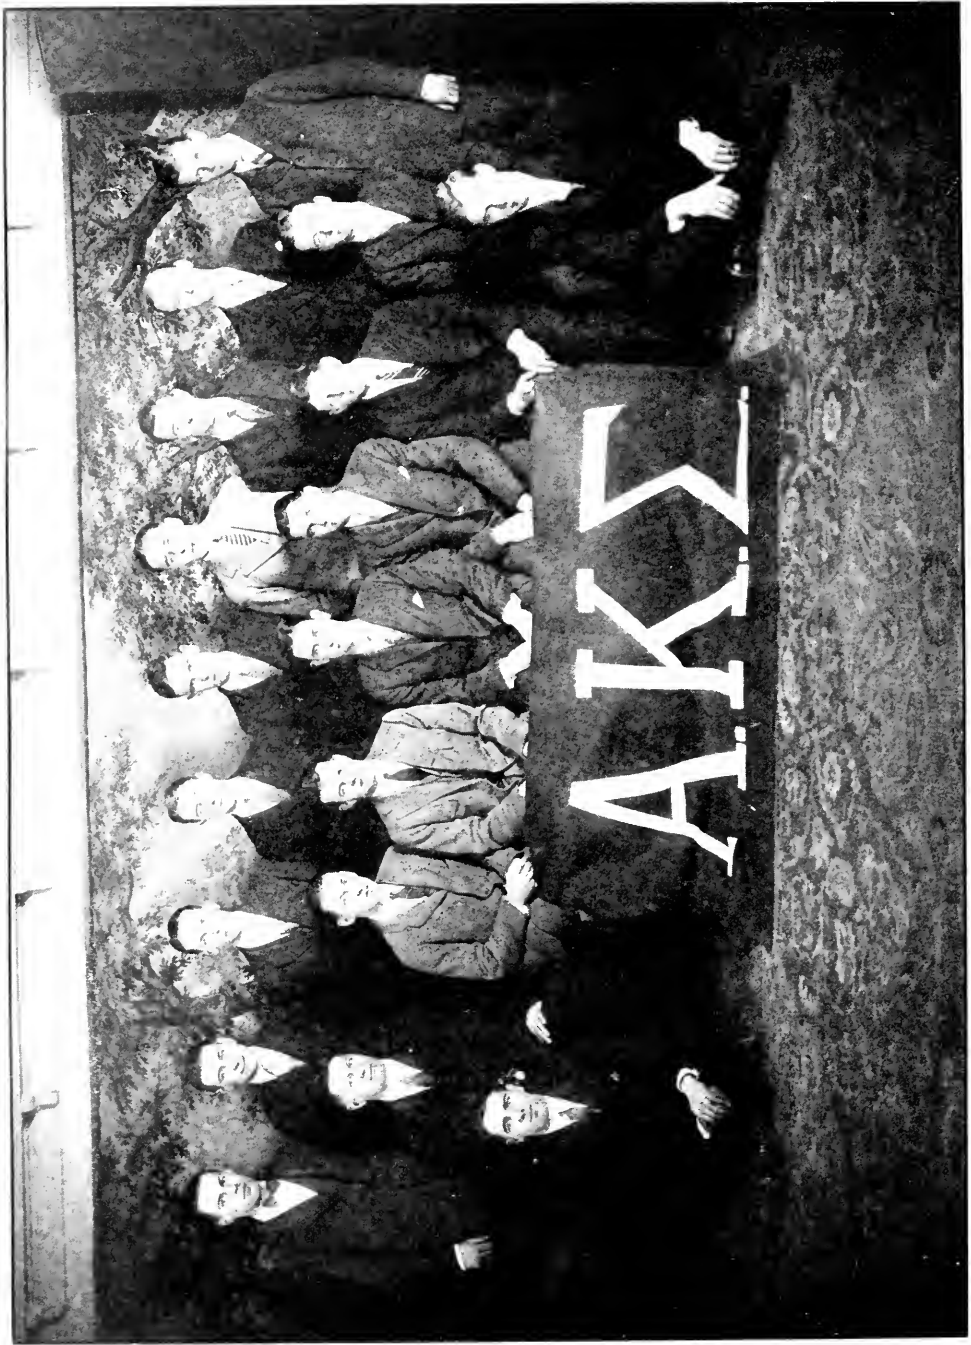

In the past year Captain Kupka was the outstanding star in the back-field and will return to continue his good work as captain of next year's team. Young at center-half proved exceptionally strong, and Chen, Fong and Scussel in the forward-field played a fast offensive.

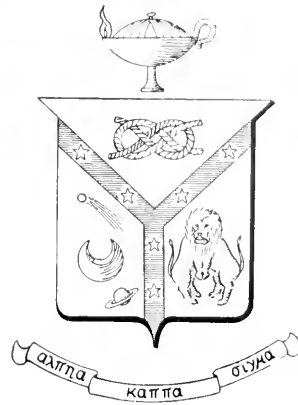

The team is to be congratulated on its fine showing, for, fighting as it has against the odds developing in every new organization, it has placed itself definitely as one of Northeastern's most active sports.

THE CAULDRON

The following is guaranteed to be the least boring of "Deac" Read's "Bible stories": An old-time negro preacher was reading and commenting upon a chapter in the Bible which dealt with genealogy. When he came to the passage, "And seven sons did Milca bear," he paused and explained as follows: "Now, sistren and bredren, dis jes' means dat dey run out of milk at dat house — de cows had went dry, or didn't come up or somethin', and de boys went out and cotech a bear an milked her. Dem boys could milk anythin'!"

Friend Harris, our Chemical comedian, says, "Laugh at this one." The negro minister was trying to impress his hearers with the shame and remorse felt by the prodigal son, and with his desire to cast away his wicked doings: "Dis young man got to thinking about his meanness and his misery, and he tuk off his coat and frowed it away. And den he tuk off his vest and frowed dat away. And den he tuk off his shirt and frowed dat away too. And den he come to hisself."

One of our sedate Seniors in the Div. A. Civil section is so well known for what he is that a Christmas card reaching the school addressed to "The Sheik of All Sheiks" was promptly delivered by Miss Paine to the "one and only" — George Bertini.

Stories have a queer way of starting, so we haven't been able to find out who's responsible for the following: Be that as it may, 'tis said that Seaman, our fleet-footed Mechanical, on the New Hampshire trip with the track team, was delayed somehow by "someone". Upon reaching the station the ticket agent told him the train had left a few minutes before. Not to be licked so easily, however, Seaman replied, "Jes gimme the ticket, point out the track and watch my smoke!"

REAL SALESMANSHIP

"You are sure that this metal filing cabinet is absolutely fireproof?" asked Biggs of the new furniture salesman.

"Absoltely, sir," replied the latter. "Why do you know, sir, that one of our filing cabinets came safe and sound out of the big Spooof Bros. fire, although everything inside of it had been burned to ashes?"

Yes, Needham!

"TIS SAID THAT:

Man is the only animal that can be skinned more than once.

After a man has slept on a cheap mattress in a cheap country hotel, he can realize how straw could break a camel's back.

There's a heap of lost motion in a dog's tail.

The rabbit multiplies very rapidly, but it takes a snake to be an adder.

Every black sheep was somebody's pet lamb once.

A horse has more forethought in his head than a mule, but let us refer not to the comparative hindsight.

When you have anything to say to a mule, say it to his face.

A pig's tail is about as useless to the pig as the two buttons on the back of a man's coat are to the man.

THE ENGINEER ("IF")

(By Robert Randolph, with Apologies to Rudyard Kipling)

If you can swing an axe, or wield a brush-hook,
Or drive a stake, or drag a chain all day,
If you can scribble "figgers" in a note book,
Or shoot a range pole half a mile away,
If you can sight a transit or a level,
Or move a target up and down a rod,
If you fear neither man nor devil,
And know yourself and trust the living God.

THE CAULDRON

If you can wade a swamp, or swim a river,
Nor fear the deeps, nor yet the dizzy heights,
If you can stand the cold without a shiver,
And take the Higgins ink to bed o' nights,
If you can turn a thumb screw with your fingers,
When every digit's like a frozen thumb,
If you can work as long as daylight lingers,
And not complain, not think you're going some.

If you can sight through tropic heat's refraction,
Or toil all day beneath a blistering sun,
If you can find a sort of satisfaction,
In knowing that you've got a job well done,
If you can be an esquimo and nigger,
And try to be a gentleman to boot,
If you can use a "guessin" stick to "figger",
And know a coefficient from a root,

If your calculus and descriptive are forgotten,
And your algebra just serves you fairly well,
If your drafting and lettering are rotten,
And your Trautwine's always handy by to tell,
If you can close a traverse without fudgin',
Or check a line of levels by a foot,
If you can set a slope stake just by judgin',
And never kick a tripod with your foot.

If you can run a line where you are told,
And make it stay somewhere upon the map,
If you can read your notes when they get cold,
And you know that contours mustn't overlap,
If you can line a truss or tap a rivet,
Or make a surly foreman come across,
If you can take an order, well as give it,
And not have secret pity for the boss.

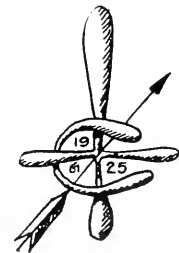

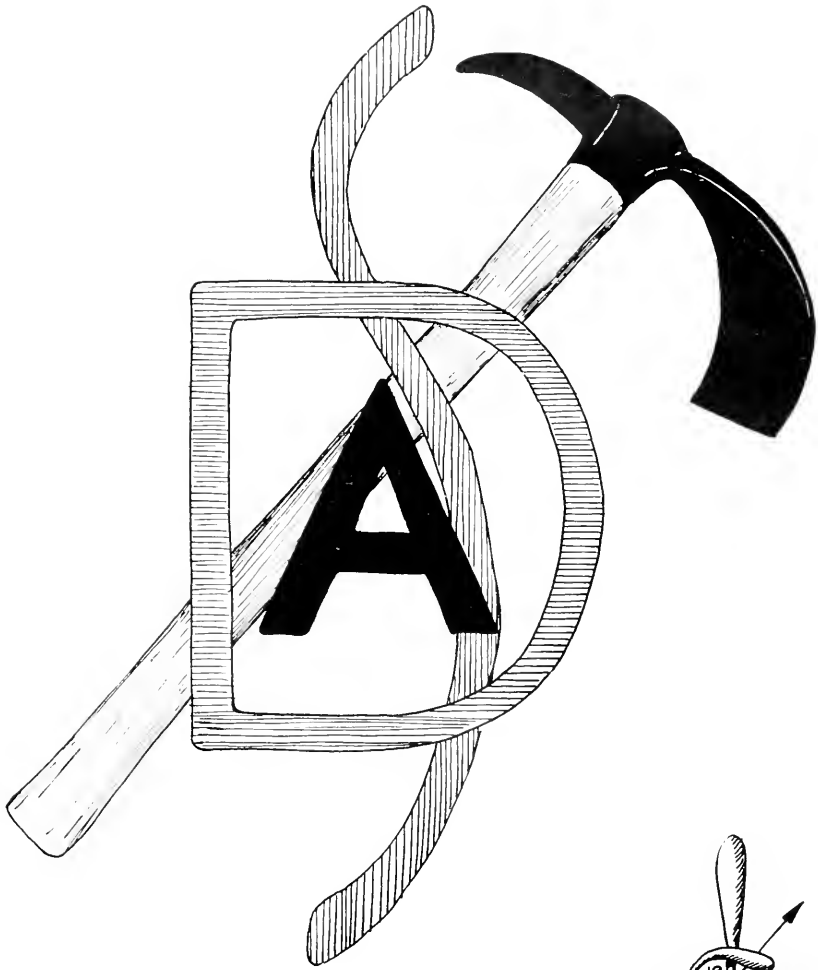

THE CAULDRON

If you can climb a stool and not feel lowly,
Nor have your head turned by a swivel chair,
If you can reach your judgments slowly,
And make your rulings always just and fair,
If you can give yourself and all that's in you
And make the others give their own best, too
If you can handle men of brawn and sinew,
And like the men and make 'em like you, too.

If you can't boast a college education,
Or, if you've got a sheep-skin, can forget,
If you get a living wage for compensation,
And give a little more than what you get,
If you can meet with triumph and disaster,
And treat them without favor, nor with fear,
You'll be a man — and your own master,
For — what is more — you'll be an ENGINEER.

DAY SCHOOLS

SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

Four-year courses in Civil, Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, and Administrative Engineering, leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Civil, Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical and Administrative Engineering. Conducted in co-operation with engineering firms. Students earn while they learn. Work conducted at Boston.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Four-year course in Business Administration leading to the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration. Students may specialize in Industrial Management, Marketing, Finance, Accounting, and Sales Management. A two-year course leading to a Junior Certificate. Work conducted at Boston.

EVENING SCHOOLS

SCHOOL OF LAW

(Co-educational)

Four-year course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Laws. Preparation for bar examinations and practice. High scholastic standards. A much larger percentage of graduates pass bar examinations than of any other evening law school in New England. Work conducted at Boston, and in Divisions at Worcester, Springfield, and Providence.

SCHOOL OF COMMERCE AND FINANCE

(Co-educational)

Four-year courses in Professional Accounting, Marketing, and Business Administration, with specialization in banking, finance, insurance, and other fields, leading to the degrees of Bachelor and Master of Commercial Science. Special two-year courses for those desiring intensive specialization. Work conducted at Boston, and in the Divisions at Worcester, Springfield, Providence, and New Haven.

NON-COLLEGIATE SCHOOLS

EVENING POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL

Three-year courses offered in the Evening Polytechnic School lead to a diploma in Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Chemistry or Structural Engineering. The work offered in these courses, while not as extensive as that leading to a degree, meets standard requirements. Students are trained for positions of trust and responsibility.

NORTHEASTERN PREPARATORY SCHOOL

Courses in usual high school subjects leading to a diploma. Three sixteen-week terms each year. It is possible for students to meet college entrance requirements in from three to five years. Work conducted at Boston and in Divisions at Worcester, New Haven, and Providence.

NORTHEASTERN AUTOMOTIVE SCHOOL

Courses in all phases of the automotive industry with special instruction for owners, salesmen, mechanics, and chauffeurs. Classes are conducted both day and evening.

VOCATIONAL INSTITUTE

A diversified program of short intensive courses in Blueprint Reading, Public Speaking, Practical Trade Mathematics, Mechanical Drawing, Estimating, Civil Service, English for Educated Foreigners, etc.

The Sign of Careful Workmanship

FOR nearly one hundred years the Andover Press has been serving the printing buyers of New England with the product of its careful workmanship.

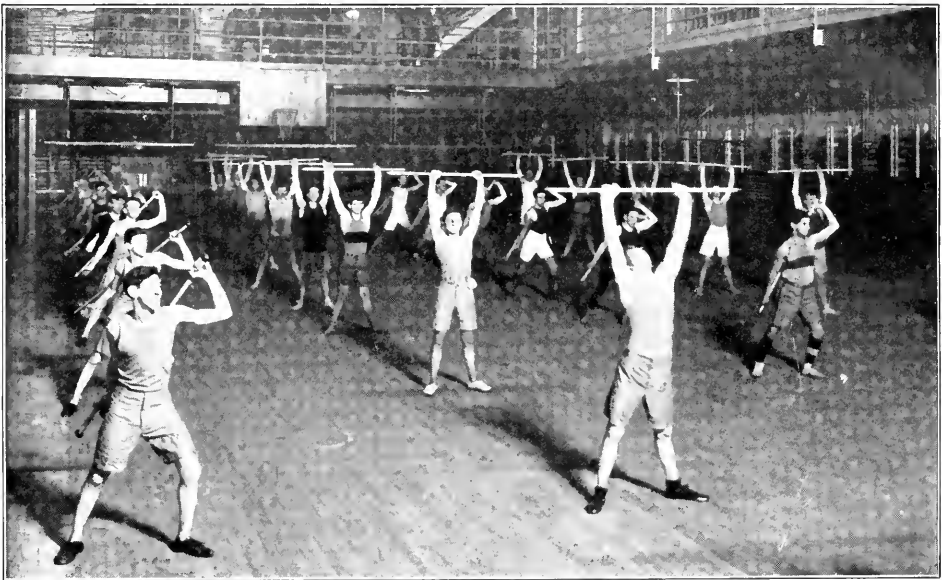

Books, catalogs, folders and small printed pieces numbering into the millions have come from its presses.

Today, it places at your service a modern equipment and a corps of highly trained workmen who have made their product known by their ability to produce something "a little bit better."
